

Lunenburg Historical Commission June 2025

The Lunenburg Historical Commission met on June 4th at the Ritter building. Members Richard McGrath, Jen Sanderson and Kevin Boussom were in attendance. The meeting began at 7:00 PM.

The letter regarding the status of 763 Mass Ave was mailed to John Mascierelli and PFMG holdings, and will also be copied to the Town Manager and Building Inspector.

A donation meant for the Historical society was mailed to the commission, so that will be sent back to the society.

The State register of historic places was received from the Secretary of State.

For new business, member Jen Sanderson proposed the reintroduction of the Boston Post Cane tradition. The original one is no longer given out to the oldest resident, but reproductions can be made for somewhere around $150.

A special meeting is scheduled for Wednesday June 11th to discuss it further and vote on purchasing one.

Returning to the historical marker project, it was decided that the 6 first sites we should focus on marking would be the site of the garrison house on Northfield road, the buttonwood tree, the site of the Revere house, the Houghton House, the Dickinson mansion, and School house No. 5.

Richard McGrath is to research the cost of the markers.

The Commission will also be meeting with the select board on June 17th to present the Hometown Heroes project.

With no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 7:43PM.
